1.According to the author many great writers and songwriters try to 'up' their 'plate appearances' because:
A.The creative nature of their work means that it requires a great deal of thought and time
B.They are trying to clock in enough opportunities to realize their true talent level
C.Without repetition of a consistent work schedule, they may hit a writers' block
D.They are narcissistic about their ability to control the public's reaction to their work

Explanation : B
Refer to what the author says about 'plate appearances': "What does matter, the analytics guys say, are plate appearances: you have to clock in enough opportunities to realize your true talent level."

2.Which of the following is incorrect, based on the article?
A.CHATGPT and other LLMs feed off the existing corpus of text and churn out a bad imitation of the real stuff
B.LLMs will eventually be able to generate writing that can be convincingly passed off as the author's own writing
C.Inspiration in writing is less about a 'moment of genius' and more about being given enough opportunities to spin out something interesting
D.None of the above

Explanation: D
All given statements are true, based on the article.

3.According to the author, which of the following is not a reason why we tend to prefer writing by humans to writing by LLMs?
A.We appreciate the personal quality in writing
B.We like to see the self in another self
C.We are curious to know what other people can create
D.We like to read writing that avoids cringey clichés

Explanation:
Correct option D
Option D is incorrect as it implies human writing does not contain cringey clichés. The article does not say this.
